THIS YEAR'S GRAND THEME

HARNESSING INNOVATION AMID THE RISE OF MULTIPOLARITY

The 21st century is witnessing a profound transformation in global economic power, shifting from the unipolar dominance of the United States toward a multipolar international order. According to International Monetary Fund and Deutsche Bank projections, China, the United States, and India will dominate global growth through 2030. Rising geopolitical tensions, such as those between Iran and the United States, underscore the urgency of navigating the disruptions associated with this transformation. Moreover, this shift raises troubling questions about the future of international cooperation and the capacity of existing institutions to manage emerging global challenges, including the reconfiguration of AI sovereignty, the rapid acceleration of the green energy transition, and the ongoing evolution of the global financial system.

In an era where power is no longer concentrated in the hands of a single hegemon, the role of international institutions in fostering regional cooperation and integrating innovation becomes increasingly important. Emerging economies, such as Indonesia, Malaysia, the Philippines, and Vietnam, must be prepared to seize growth opportunities while building resilience to absorb external shocks. At the same time, developed countries should take a more active role in ensuring a more equitable distribution of growth, particularly through the transfer of knowledge, technology, and capacity-building initiatives.

As the largest student-led economic event in Indonesia, The 24th Economix aims to foster discourse on pressing global economic challenges across nations. This platform provides participants with the opportunity to critically examine key issues arising from the shift toward a multipolar world, including AI sovereignty, the green energy transition, and the evolution of the global financial system. Ultimately, it seeks to encourage the development of innovative solutions to address the world's pressing challenges.

ECONOMIX AT A GLANCE

The 24th Economix: Global Economic Challenges is an annual international event, under the flagship of KANOPI FEB UI, a student council run by undergraduate economic students at the Faculty of Economics and Business, Universitas Indonesia. We are committed to raise awareness and broaden the discourse over global social-economic issues with the hope of enlightening new insights as well as stimulating imperative solutions.

As we mark the beginning of a new era, The 24th Economix is honored to carry forward its legacy as an inclusive platform for participants worldwide to engage in idea exchange and expand their global networks through our three main events: International Seminar, International Paper, Essay & Policy Brief Competition, and Model United Nations.

The 24th Economix serves as a platform for individuals to critically engage with the evolving global geopolitical landscape. It promotes initiatives that explore AI sovereignty and digital resilience, the energy transition for sustainable growth, and the digital evolution of global financial systems, with a particular emphasis on fostering innovative solutions to address pressing global challenges.

EXECUTIVE REMARKS

Dear Prospective Members of the 24th Economix,

With sincere enthusiasm, we invite proactive individuals to become part of the 24th Economix: Global Economic Challenges.

For over two decades, Economix has served as a platform for students worldwide to actively engage in addressing global economic challenges. Rooted in the values of professionalism, and innovation, we believe these principles form the foundation of every prospective member of the 24th Economix. Accordingly, we are committed to delivering a meaningful and inspiring experience. This year, we proudly present our grand theme: Harnessing Innovation amid the Rise of Multipolarity.

Here, you will collaborate with proactive individuals to grow within a supportive community that feels like family. This spirit of collaboration has empowered our members to pursue remarkable opportunities and emerge as changemakers in society. Many have gone on to become influential economists and leaders across various sectors, while others continue to shape their journeys by taking on impactful roles within the university.

Beyond the event itself, Economix offers a strong intergenerational network that will support your personal and professional growth throughout your academic journey and beyond.

Will you be the one to continue this legacy?

PROGRAM:

SEMINAR

The Economix Seminar division consists of two main events: the International Dialogue and the International Seminar. Through this series, we aim to deepen our understanding of today's global issues from the perspectives of experts. The International Dialogue serves as a pre-event, offering a moderated discussion that introduces key ideas under a unique overarching theme and sets the stage for further exploration. The International Seminar is further divided into two sessions, each focusing on different subthemes. Some sessions feature keynote speeches, while others combine keynote presentations with moderated discussions.

PROGRAM:

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

The Economix Model United Nations (MUN) division aims to recreate the experience of a United Nations conference, where participants take on the role of delegates to discuss and reach a shared consensus on global issues. This year, the MUN will feature three councils, designed to help participants develop their public speaking, critical thinking, diplomacy, and leadership skills through an engaging and educational simulation. Through this experience, delegates are also encouraged to deepen their understanding of diplomacy, international relations, and global affairs, while working together to propose solutions related to national development and world trade.
